Seven journalists have been killed in South Sudan in 2015. Independent newspapers are closed down.

If any journalist doesn’t know that this country has killed people, we will demonstrate it one day, one time.

The peace deal awards this land to the president… you have to vacate immediately. Anyone who objects will be arrested.

What happened to that compensation money?

What happened to those trials of war criminals and to the disarmament plan?

28 new governors named.

Humanitarian agencies feed millions of South Sudanese people—even after peace is signed. Government spending on health and education remains near to zero.

What happened to that compensation money?

Humanitarian agencies feed millions of South Sudanese people—even after peace is signed. Government spending on health and education remains near to zero.

Humanitarian agencies feed millions of South Sudanese people—even after peace is signed. Government spending on health and education remains near to zero.

Humanitarian agencies feed millions of South Sudanese people—even after peace is signed. Government spending on health and education remains near to zero.